

(Remote) Position Available: Analyst [Pre-Market]

Who We Want

We want talented people from diverse backgrounds and experiences, who are inspired by our objective, steeped in innovation, and who are motivated to unleash our clients potential. These talented people are also strong collaborators, skilled communicators, and problem solvers who are comfortable in a community of high-stakes performance.

The [Pre-Market] Analyst is an entry-level position that directly reports to our CEO and/or COO. This role is responsible for providing daily analysis of pre-market data.

The [Pre-Market] Analyst will ensure the analysis is accurate, complete, and relayed in a timely manner as needed for our research and development team.

Why RENNOD

RENNOD strives for a culture that puts its clients and associates first: a culture where everyone belongs, everyone is welcome, and everyone contributes to the success of our clients, our careers, and the firm as a whole.

Let's talk about how you can find your place here at RENNOD.

What You'll Be Doing

Our 6-week program provides individuals with a hands-on introduction to quantitative development and research. As a contributing team member, you'll get real-world experience and be fully immersed in the day-to-day business activities of one of the world's most discrete and successful R&D firms. You'll work alongside our professionals, from Analyst through CEO, gaining exposure to various bespoke strategies for electronic markets.

What We're Looking For

A [Pre-Market] Analyst's specific responsibilities may include conducting data analysis, updating and building financial models to analyze projections and performance of financial instruments, quantitative research on potential transactions, and computational finance.

Your experience as a [Pre-Market] Analyst may include:

- Analyzing and researching data related to financial instruments
- Conducting research and building quantitative financial models
- Preparing presentation materials such as spreadsheets and summaries
- Performing in-depth financial quantitative analysis.
- Learning technique and strategy from professionals
- Contributing to team meetings and discussions
- Other duties as assigned.

What You'll bring

Candidates possess outstanding academic records and can demonstrate strong leadership skills through extracurricular endeavors such as student government, athletics, and cultural and entrepreneurial activities.

The ideal candidate will possess the following:

- Expectations for a quantitative-related undergraduate or graduate degree
- Proficiency in Excel and Python
- Knowledge of financial markets
- Exceptional capacity for problem solving and quick thinking.
- Driven, proactive, and team oriented.
- Demonstrated track record of achievement in academics and extracurricular activities.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Ability to effectively manage multiple simultaneous project deadlines
- Highly motivated and energetic.
